

309 E. Douglas, Wichita, KS 67202 | 316.247.6229

Food is Medicine in Kansas: Virtual Learning Series

Connecting Nutrition, Healthcare & Local Food Systems

Food is Medicine is a growing effort to unite healthcare and community partners around the power of food to improve health, reduce hunger, and strengthen local economies. Please join Hunger Free Kansas, in collaboration with the Sunflower Foundation and the Kansas Food Action Network (KFAN), for a 10-part virtual learning series examining Food is Medicine and how these models and services are taking shape across our state and the country.

Together, we'll explore how Kansas can continue to build sustainable, equitable, and evidence-based approaches that integrate nutritious food into healthcare, expand local food access, and create lasting systems change.

Series at a Glance

#	Date	Session Topic
1	Oct. 29	Foundations of Food is Medicine
2	Nov. 19	Food is Medicine in Kansas: Landscape of Needs, Gaps & Opportunities
3	Dec. 17	Food as Healthcare: Evidence, Outcomes & Coverage Models
4	Jan. 21	Bridging Healthcare, Food is Medicine & Local Food Systems
5	Feb. 2026*	Sustaining & Funding Food is Medicine Interventions in Kansas
6	March 2026*	Role of Producers, Processors & Grocers in Food is Medicine
7	April 2026*	Improving Health Through Nutrition Education & Local Foods
8	May 2026*	Equity in Food is Medicine & Models for Target Populations
9	June 2026*	Measuring Impact & Building the Case for Food is Medicine in Kansas
10	July 2026*	Overview: Kansas' Food is Medicine Roadmap

\ Session topics and dates subject to change*

Stay updated on future sessions and registration information by signing up for the Hunger Free Kansas Newsletter at www.hungerfreekansas.org/get-involved

For more information about the Food is Medicine Virtual Learning Series or partnership opportunities, please contact Hunger Free Kansas at connect@hungerfreekansas.org.

